

Chimuka Hamakando – Chance4all Secondary Teacher

My name is Chimuka Hamakando. I am a Science Teacher by profession, and I have a bachelor's degree in Bachelor of Science with Education. Basically, I've always been a science enthusiastic person and I learn new ideas and concepts easily which I could implement towards my work. I am passionate about my work as it allows me to impart knowledge and skills to the upcoming new generation. I am glad to be among the team at Chance4all as we give a chance to all children through education.
